BEST ACTRESS MAKES ACCEPTANCE IN SIGN

Louise Fletcher, who tearfully thanked the audience in sign language, won the Academy Award for Best Actress for her portrayal of Nurse Ratched in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." This was only her second film role.

Miss Fletcher's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher from Birmingham, Alabama, are Gallaudet College graduates; and her sister, Georgianna Thames, is a MSSD staff member.

ARTICLE IN PEOPLE MAGAZINE WILL APPEAR

In an earlier issue of ON THE GREEN we mentioned that an article on Peggy Parsons would be appearing in the March 29th issue of People Magazine and would be on the newstands on March 22. Unfortunately, the information we received from the magazine's Washington bureau was incorrect.

 The story is now tentatively scheduled

AN INTERESTING QUOTE

"...Take those who are born deaf, who have no knowledge of language; I hold that the basis of their education should be written language; the language of the people. The spoken language presented by word of mouth, what we term speech reading in America, reading from the mouth, every child who has a knowledge of language can acquire; but I think that with the congenitally deaf to commence their education by speech reading, to commence to have the child read words from the mouth, before he knows the language, interferes with his mental development, retards progress in the acquisition of language, and thus defeats its own ends, and retards the acquisition of speech reading itself." A.G. Bell
